

Than farther – so will be more interesting...

In terms, when Ministry of education and science (MES) of Ukraine promotes requirements to the guarantors and members of working group, the educational programs, bread-winners of scientific degrees, the editorial college of magazine is nothing remains how to be advanced to the receipt of the greatest stages of confession on the level of world scientific association. Already the next number of magazine will present the articles, which will have more whimsical terms to scientific maintenance and substantial novelty, and also to which will get the positive results of passing of the independent double criticizing. All of it will approach us together with our authors to passing to the category of "B". And whatever barriers arose up on our movement to the forward, us nothing will stop, because we together with the authors, readers, official and unofficial opponents everything will overcome and will become winners, which will attain all terms and indexes of editions, which can pass to the category of "A".

On a way to confession already it is much done and we notarize all our authors, that the editorial board of magazine gives and will give to all our supporters and partners of maximal support and help in taking of the articles to the perfect requirements of modern economic science in relation to opening of theoretical, empiric and applied aspects of research, with the purpose of its indexation in the whimsical scientific and metrical bases of Scopus and Web of Science.

And whatever most research workers criticized irrelevance of today's reforms and alterations of Ukrainian scientific professional editions, which is offered MES of Ukraine; however we are ready to the modern calls, to equal in rights competitive activity and whimsical scientific tests. We know and able to do it, because a new editorial board which will appear in a next number has in the composition those world research workers which are acknowledged in their countries, and their articles are indexed in world scientifically-metrical bases. Only all together, in the process of fruitful perfect labor we will be able to lead to the authorial articles, and our edition to the best perception by a scientific association and to promote quoting. And exactly motion in this direction - must interest all our supporters. Therefore, we are well came to attach to general work. We are ready to accept and examine any suggestions on the pages of our magazine, because only by direct and reverse connections, taking every critical and appropriate remark into attention, it is possible to support the internal potential and accumulate energies for high-quality scientific achievements.
